BROAD-LEAVED EVERGREENS FOR SHADY PLANTINGS

Possibly there is an extremely shady spot on your property, where you have tried in vain to grow grass. This is one of the most difficult feats even for an experienced gardener. The best way to overcome this situation is to use a ground covering of Broadleaved Evergreens. Not only does this give you a more beautiful, all-year-round effect, but the magnificent blooms that they yield in the Spring are worth the price invested alone. Come in and inspect our beautiful collection of these choice plants. The prices this Fall are exceedingly low.

JAPANESE IRIS

The blooms of the Japanese Iris are 6 to 10 inches in diameter. They will grow in almost any soil that does not become too dry in Summer, but they prefer a warm, sunny location.

The best time to plant is July, and from then on until the middle of September the plants may be safely planted in localities not too far north, so that they may have time to establish themselves before cold weather sets in. If they are planted rather late, they should be freely mulched after the ground is frozen in late Autumn to keep the ground from heaving.

PHLOX

Following the Irises and Peonies in time of bloom, but in no way behind them in popularity, are the Hardy Perennial Phloxes. We have weeded out all the magentas and purples, and believe that our list is as select as that offered by any firm.

Phloxes are shallow-rooted plants and should, therefore, be planted a little deeper than most plants and kept well tilled to conserve the moisture, as they cannot stand dry, packed soil like Peonies and Irises. No fertilizer should be near the roots. A little bonemeal sprinkled on the surface of the ground before hoeing gives good results, but be careful not to use too much.

PREPAID POSTAGE

For more than 25 years Peonies have been a specialty at Rosedale. Our long experience in selecting fine varieties and growing, make it possible for us to offer you the cream of the crop. FOR THE FIRST TIME AN EXTRA SIZE PLANT IS OFFERED AT THE MARKET PRICE FOR A DIVISION. (See EXTRA SIZE PLANTS). These plants are fully 20 per cent larger and will produce more blooms the first year.

CULTURE—Peonies are extremely easy to grow, and stand shipping and handling better than most perennials. They like rich, deep loam with an abundant supply of moisture. Do not use fresh manure near the roots. Plant in September or October; cover eyes not over 2 inches.

Quality and Service

ROSEDALE NURSERIES is located in the Sawmill River valley—one of the most fertile spots in beautiful Westchester. This fact, together with the fact that our stock is well cared for—pruned and transplanted at regular intervals, and the soil under constant cultivation—makes an ideal place for those to buy, who appreciate well formed plants and trees in their most healthy condition.

The illustrations on this page are examples of our average stock and were taken this Summer. Of course, an ordinary photograph does not do them justice, and we ask you to be convinced by visiting us in person to inspect them.

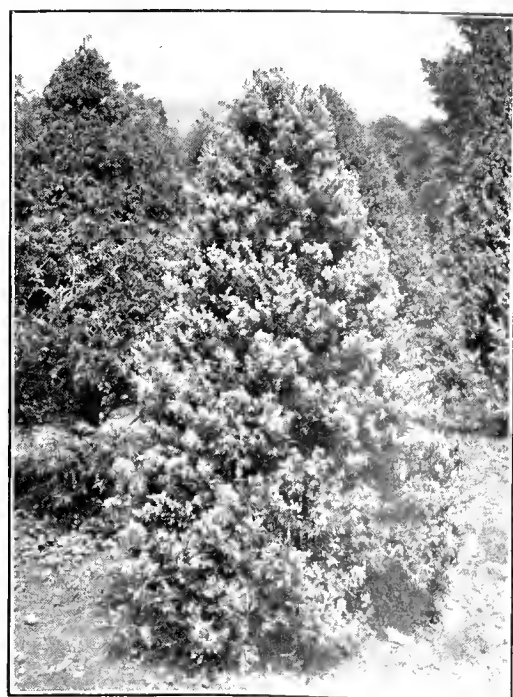

Our Landscape Department is at your service without obligation on your part. This department together with the practical experience gathered over thirty years in business, should be of extreme value to you.
